Deadline Tonight:

Federal Money Chance Delays Bridge Action

LANSING (UPI) — The prospect of more time and the possibility of obtaining federal funds to refinance the Mackinac Bridge were to play a key role today in a decision on whether the bridge bill will get out of a Senate committee.

The bridge bill was one of several which had to be reported out of committees in both houses by midnight tonight to stay alive for action during the session that is due to end Friday.

Bills to create an osteopathic college, to provide rent relief for senior citizens and a $1.2 million supplemental appropriation for eight state colleges were among the top items debated in House committees.

Also in the house for consideration were bills to create a legislative auditor general's department and to merge county welfare departments with the State Social Welfare Department.

Beside the bridge bill, the Senate was pressed to act on homestead tax relief measures for disabled veterans and amendments to the uninsured motorists fund.

Bridge Bill May Stall
Both houses had bills before them to stagger the terms of office of circuit court judges.

The bridge bill was channelled to the Senate Highway Committee last week from the House where it had passed unanimously, 103-0.

A campaign by Upper Peninsula and Northern Michigan lawmakers to reduce high tolls on the bridge played an important part in the House passage.

However, the measure may become bogged down today in committee for the sake of more time to study the proposal and the possibility of obtaining government funds to pay off 90 per cent of the $99.8 million bridge debt.

Senate Highway Committee Chairman Stanley Rozycki, D-Detroit, said his committee would give "careful consideration" to the measure "in full deference of the urgency of the bill."

"If we are convinced the bill has merit we may report it out. However, if the committee sees fit it would be more proper to study the proposal we will do so."

Lower Interest
"If there is no action this session I can assure you the bill will be one of the first bills to be acted upon in 1966," Rozycki said.

Two Democratic members of the six-man committee, Roger Johnson of Marshall and Carl O'Brien of Pontiac, Monday night took a wait-and-see stand on the measure.

They suggested a committee be sent to Washington to pursue obtaining federal funds to refinance the bridge and convert it to a portion of I 75.

"I'm for reducing the tolls but I don't feel anything should be done at this time until we explore the possibility of obtaining federal money," Johnson said.

Currently, the high interest rate on the original bonds is forcing the Mackinac Bridge Authority to maintain the $3.75 toll on cars traveling one way.

Refinancing the bridge with bonds which have the full faith and credit of the state behind them reportedly would lower interest rates.

O'Brien said "as long as there is a possibility of the federal government declaring the bridge a part of the federal-state highway system" he would not be in a hurry to approve the measure.

Sen. Thomas Schweigert, R-Petoskey, prime supporter of the bill in the Senate, said he would "keep the needle sharp" in pushing for bridge refinancing.

Allegan Council Refuses Betting
ALLEGAN (UPI) — The Allegan City council Monday voted down proposed pari-mutuel betting on harness racing at the Allegan County Fairgrounds.

The council vote was 4-1 against the proposal, which had been approved by Allegan residents last week by a narrow majority. The council was not bound by the referendum.

Voting in favor of pari-mutuel betting was Councilman C. J. Smith.

House Debates Sugar; Senate Cloture Fails

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House began debate today on legislation to set a ceiling on sugar imports for the next five years. The activities of lobbyists for foreign governments were expected to come under scrutiny.

The bill, controversial since the first of its type was passed in 1934, would determine how much of the approximately 10 million ton annual sugar needs of the United States would be bought domestically and how much imported.

As approved by the House Agriculture Committee, the bill provided for 65 per cent of the nation's sugar to come from domestic supplies and 35 per cent from imports. It also would set quotas for each of the countries from which sugar is imported.

Foreign governments have always sought as high a quota as possible because the United States pays controlled prices for sugar that are considerably higher than world prices.

Other congressional speakers: Morrissey, House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., and Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., were expected to urge the House Judiciary Committee to approve President Johnson's nomination of Francis X. Morrissey as a Boston federal court judge.

The American Bar Association and other legal groups opposed the nomination on grounds Morrissey, an intimate friend of the Kennedy family, was unqualified.

Right-To-Work: Senate opponents to the controversial bill to nullify state laws banning union shops, bolstered by Monday's defeat of a move to limit debate, readied more speeches to block the measure. Little chance for passage of the House approved bill this year was seen.

Adjournment: Congressional leaders were pressing plans to clean up remaining "must" legislation in time for adjournment by the end of next week. House leaders planned to send the Senate only two more bills—the sugar bill now being debated and a multi-billion dollar supplemental appropriations measure.

Thousands Of Cubans Mass For Exodus From Castro

Indonesia Nabs Rebel Officer

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (UPI)—Radio Jakarta today reported the arrest of Lt. Col. Untung, the palace guard officer whose leftist rebels assassinated six Indonesian army generals in a coup attempt.

Anti-Communist Indonesians demanded Untung's death. A broadcast from the Indonesian capital said Untung and two cohorts were captured Monday by army troops and civilian vigilantes at Tegay, a seaport in central Java about 250 miles east of Jakarta. The three rebels were trying to escape to Semarang city 200 miles further east.

An army spokesman reported that Untung's rebel force of five battalions had all but collapsed and that only 10 per cent remained at large. Most of the dissidents were either captured or surrendered, the spokesman said, and many returned to their units after realizing the mistake of joining Untung's rebellion in the first place.

Untung was the leader of the so-called "September 30th movement," an attempted power grab which was crushed by right-wing army elements hours after he announced formation of a "revolutionary council" to replace Sukarno.

The shadowy palace guard commander seemed almost certain to face a firing squad. Radio Jakarta said he was undergoing interrogation, but a series of violent anti-Communist rallies blessed by the army indicated that his captors would be merciless.

Little is known of Untung's background, but the list of Indonesian names he named to the "revolutionary council" contained the names of several Communists. There has been speculation that Untung was a front man for Communist elements who wanted to oust Sukarno.

CUBAN REFUGEES sit on deck of U. S. Coast Guard patrol boat (background) and mill around the MMM Miami in which they left Camarioca Sunday. The MMM Miami, reported stolen last Thursday at Miami, broke down en route to Key West, Fla., but repairs were made and the boat sailed into harbor on her own power. Seventeen refugees made the trip. Coast Guard Intercepts Two Refugee Boats

KEY WEST, Fla. (UPI)—Twenty-three more Cuban refugees, sailing north from their Communist island to freedom in two small boats, were intercepted by the Coast Guard early today and headed here.

The group, which the Coast Guard said included several elderly persons, apparently had sailed from the port of Camarioca on Cuba's north coast.

Thousands were reported waiting at a giant refugee camp at Camarioca to come to the United States under Cuban Premier Fidel Castro's new "open door" policy to all who want to leave the island.

The 23 headed for Key West early today would push to over 90 the number of Cubans who have fled in small craft since Castro gave the green light to malcontents with his Communist regime.

Make Slow Progress
The Coast Guard said the boats were making slow progress under their own power and would probably not reach Key West until late this morning or early this afternoon.

Late Monday night, it appeared that the exodus of refugees from Cuba had stalled or that small boat skippers might have switched to blockade-running tactics to stay out of trouble with U.S. authorities.

"A wooden boat that sits low in the water doesn't make a very good radar target, and if the skipper knew about where the picket boats were located he should have a pretty good chance of getting through," said one source familiar with such operations.

Proposals Sent
No clandestine arrivals were reported among Cuban exiles in Florida.

Since Fidel Castro announced his "open door" policy, two boatloads of refugees have left from Camarioca, the debarkation port he designated, and a third boat made a run for freedom through militiamen's gunfire from another part of the Cuban coast.

The U.S. State Department sent the Castro government last week a summary of proposals for a formal transfer of exiles at a rate of about 5,000 month. As of Monday, no answer had been received and a spokesman said it would take about 10 days after basic agreement is reached to get a mass exodus cranked up.

In New York, thousands of Cubans jammed the offices of the Catholic Charities and the International Rescue Committee Monday to get immigration applications for relatives left behind in Cuba.

U.S. authorities, meanwhile, did what they could to discourage the stop-and-start freedom shuttle by small boats across the 90-mile-wide Florida Straits.

The Coast Guard advised boat skippers heading for Cuba of possible prosecution for violations on their return. Many turned back but at least 10 boats were reported in Cuba ready to pick up loads of refugees.

Maritime Expert Fears Foreign Control Of Lakes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Maritime Administration says that U. S. shipping lines have allowed foreign interests to gain control of 98 per cent of the shipping at Great Lakes ports.

In a report on lakes shipping, Paul N. Pfeiffer, chief hearing examiner for the agency, took the U. S. shippers to task for allowing the situation to develop. He said a major international crisis could paralyze Great Lakes shipping.

Pfeiffer criticized the U. S. shipping lines for concentrating on government cargo and leaving lower-rated general cargoes to foreign flag ships. "At this moment we have been out-sailed by our foreign competitors," he said.

Viet Cong Troops Escape U.S., Vietnamese Assault

SOUL LA TINH VALLEY, Viet Nam (UPI)—More than 2,000 Communist troops today escaped a trap laid by the big joint American-Vietnamese operation of the war.

As the Americans and Vietnamese closed the trap on the strategic valley 25 miles northeast of An Khe, the few captured prisoners revealed that the elusive Communist regiment had pulled out.

The prisoners said the North Vietnamese "song lo" Regiment received orders to withdraw from the valley on Saturday, the day before "Operation Shining Bayonet" was launched by the U.S. Army's 1st Cavalry Division and Vietnamese soldiers.

Operation Tipped Off
The move into the valley in the central highlands, 280 miles northeast of Saigon, was launched on reports that up to five Communist battalions were massed in the valley near the 1st Cavalry's base.

The prisoners indicated Viet Cong Intelligence knew of the operation in advance and the regiment was ordered to move north and west into the thickly wooded mountains. It left behind only a scattering of snipers for harassment and observation purposes.

Thus far, 16 Viet Cong were known killed and 60 more were estimated to have died in air and artillery attacks. Nine prisoners were taken and 40 suspects detained.

Two Jets Downed
The also captured a Viet Cong workshop containing four new American sewing machines and about 100 new Viet Cong uniforms.

U.S. and Vietnamese casualties were described as light. An American spokesman in Saigon disclosed that two U.S. planes were downed Monday, one on a raid against Communist North Viet Nam and the other while supporting ground forces 240 miles northeast of Saigon.

Both pilots managed to bail out successfully and both were rescued unhurt by U.S. helicopter crews, the spokesman said. U.S. B52 jet bombers attacked a Communist supply area today on the fringes of the Viet Cong "Iron Triangle" 20 miles north-west of Saigon. U.S. paratroopers are engaged in an offensive to clear the once-impenetrable stronghold.

Sweep Saigon Outskirts
The "Iron Triangle" campaign was launched last Friday by thousands of troops of the 173rd U.S. Airborne Brigade and the South Vietnamese army. It claimed 63 known Viet Cong dead, but it did not live up to the pre-battle expectations of American military commanders.

In a third operation underway, a military spokesman disclosed today that government troops and American advisers were sweeping through the western outskirts of Saigon in the second day of a multi-battalion search and destroy mission.

Seven Viet Cong were known dead. Government casualties were described as light.

NATO Nuclear Talks Planned

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States and Britain have decided to hold more talks with West Germany and other European allies before making a final decision on the controversial NATO nuclear force.

British Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart, in a conference here Monday with Secretary of State Dean Rusk, agreed to this course despite his publicly expressed misgivings over the wisdom of the project.

Rusk will review the subject with West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard when Erhard visits Washington after formation of his new government. Indications are that he will be here in late November.

The British will talk the subject over with West German Defense Minister Kai-Uwe von Hassel, who plans to visit London soon. Italy and other NATO members also will be consulted again on the project.

The British have expressed doubts as to whether the proposed NATO nuclear force is worth the trouble it is causing the West in its relations with Russia. Stewart is known to feel that the Russians are sincere in their assertion that they cannot agree to a treaty to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons if NATO creates an atomic force in which Germany will have a voice.

American officials discount Russia's arguments, contending that they are principally propaganda. The U.S. view is that inclusion of Germany in some sort of NATO arrangement is necessary to prevent that country from eventually giving in to the urge to have its own independent nuclear force.

Doctors Tell LBJ To Take It Easy

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson had a "good night's sleep," but continued to experience mild discomfort from his gall bladder operation and kept his schedule free of official callers.

On the fifth day of his convalescence from the surgery, the President was under doctors' orders to follow a take-it-easy routine to speed his recuperation.

White House Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers, in a statement to newsmen about 7:30 a.m. EDT, indicated that the President continued to improve in his suite at Bethesda Naval Hospital. Moyers said:

"The President had a good night's sleep. He awoke at 6 a.m. this morning. He continues to experience, as per expected, mild discomfort. He is no longer getting intravenous feeding. He walked unassisted."

Johnson spent more than an hour late Monday afternoon with Secretary of State Dean Rusk. The secretary reported on crises in Indonesia and Rhodesia and other foreign policy matters.

Rusk also had a pleasant surprise: Get-well greetings from the top rulers of the Soviet Union relayed through Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin.

The Chief Executive continued to show progress—eating some tapioca and soft-boiled eggs in addition to intravenous injections of glucose. He also walked a few steps without assistance Monday morning.

Doctors said checks of his blood pressure, heart and respiration were normal.

Major Shakeup Announced:

State Labor Head Quits; Three Directors Named

LANSING (UPI) — In a major executive shakeup, Gov. George Romney today announced the resignation of Labor Commissioner Roy M. Johns and the appointment of three major department heads.

Romney said Johns, under attack by Democratic legislators for several months, "requested that he not be reappointed" to his term that expired last April.

Stepping in to guide reorganization of the Labor Department until a new director is chosen will be Don Gordon, now administrative assistant to Lt. Gov. William G. Milliken.

Announce Appointments
Other appointments announced by Romney include: —Robert J. McIntosh, now Romney's executive assistant for legislative affairs, as head of the Department of Commerce.

—Glenn S. Allen Jr., now state comptroller, as state budget director and administrative assistant to Romney in charge of legislative liaison, agency liaison, and budget affairs.

—George Washington, now a member of the Public Service Commission, as head of the Department of Administration. Romney said the men will not take over their new duties until executive reorganization plans are completed and he issues executive orders to set up the 19 new state departments.

Advises Senate
Romney said he had advised Senate leaders of his actions early this morning and that he received "no negative comments of any character" about his choices.

He said Gordon, who will take a pay cut from $15,000 to $10,500 during his temporary assignment, will "play an active role in planning and reorganizing the new Department of Labor."

"I am very pleased to have him assume the responsibility for reorganizing what is now primarily an inspection department," Romney said.

He also said the Department of Labor would be the first of the executive departments to swing into operation under the reorganization plan. "Hopefully sometime in November."

Monday, Romney said he had "three or four" men under consideration for the top post in the department of labor, but was not prepared to name his choice. The appointment of Mc-Intosh, Allen, and Washington to the three other jobs today left the Labor Department the only one without a director.

Romney said that Johns, 65, would retire and return to his home in Wakefield.

"I want to commend Roy Johns for his unwavering devotion to his job and his state during the period in which he held this extremely difficult position," Romney said.

He also commended Gordon, a former state legislator who played a major role in the development and passage of the Minimum Wage Law and the Construction Safety Act, for stepping into the temporary position.

All the new appointments, except Allen's will require Senate confirmation.

Agency liaison chore: now assigned to Executive Assistant Dr. Walter de Vries and his staff will be shifted to Allen's division; and de Vries will concentrate his efforts on research and program development, Romney said.

Romney said he hoped all departments would complete the first phase of reorganization by next spring.

Supervisors Ask No Change Under Reapportionment

The question of reapportionment of the County Board of Supervisors to bring equality of representation, a subject of state-wide discussion in efforts to meet the one man-one vote ruling, received considerable attention in the closing session of the Delta Board of Supervisors Monday.

"We know that reapportionment is coming, but the question is: How is it going to be done? And how is it going to affect us here in Delta County?" said Charles Sedenquist, Wells Township supervisor and chairman of the County Board.

The Public Affairs Committee of the Board came up with one suggestion, a motion that the Board recommend to the State Committee on Reapportionment that the present number of supervisors be retained and that representation be established on a percentage basis.

This motion was adopted with some negative votes, and a few supervisors, members of the committee making the report, spoke against trying to retain all of the present supervisors.

For example, Delta now has 27 supervisors on its county board. Some represent as few as 300 citizens; some represent governmental units of several thousand population.

Opposing the motion in the form of a "minority report," Supervisor Grey Knaus of Cornwell said that realistically Delta might come out of reapportionment with a board of 10 or 15 members. But it would be unlikely that Delta could ever retain 27 members, since representation on such a population percentage basis would give populous counties boards with hundreds of supervisors.

Mayor George Ruch of Escanaba said he felt that 27 member boards were "unworkable" for present day government but that five members (as suggested in one study for the small population counties such as Delta) would be too few.

Two meetings are coming up this month in connection with reapportionment studies and the Delta Supervisors will be represented at both. One meeting is to be in Iron Mountain on Oct. 27 and the other in Lansing (a meeting of the State Association of Supervisors) the following day.

Named delegates to represent the Delta Board were Chairman Sedenquist, and Supervisors Phil Miron, Grey Knaus and Frank Stupak.

"I don't think this Board, try as hard as we can to be fair, can come up with a satisfactory answer," said Sedenquist. "I also feel that the suggestion, that under reapportionment we start off with an all new board, will only sacrifice men with years of valuable experience."

Although there were a few "nay" votes the Supervisors adopted the Public Affairs Committee motion to hold to the present 27-man Board. As Supervisor Miron summed it up: "At least this is our resolution and it will let them (at the meetings later this month) know that we want to be heard on our issues."

From Gogebic County Board of Supervisors came a report that it favors reapportionment on the basis of 1,000 population per supervisor. In Delta County, for example, the number of supervisors would be increased from 27 to 34 under this suggested formula. Wayne County would have a Board numbering in the thousands.

In other business the Supervisors:

Approved the purchase by the federal government (U. S. Forest Service) of 654 acres in Masonville Township from Wilbert DeGrave. The land is contiguous to Forest Service acreage.

Directed a telegram to Gov. Romney asking that he sign into law a bill which permits counties to plow snow from driveways; and adopted a motion recommending to the Delta County Road Commission that it plow driveways in the winter ahead.

Adopted a motion wishing good health to Supervisors Jacob Bink and L. J. Jacobs and former Supervisor Harold "Pat" Hayes.

Asked for reports on the cost to Delta County (as owner of the property) in the operation of the Delta Nursing Home.

Packers Invite Repeat Show For Cowboys:

Esky Band To Play Milwaukee

Henry Harnischfeger
... band trip sponsor

Escanaba High School's Marching Band will be the featured half-time attraction at the Green Bay Packers-Dallas Cowboys professional football game in Milwaukee Sunday, Oct. 24.

Harnischfeger Corp., of Milwaukee will sponsor the trip of the student bandmen from Escanaba, where it has its largest branch operations, to Milwaukee, where it has its main work. Raymond Fish, manager of Harnischfeger operations in Escanaba said President Henry Harnischfeger had arranged personally for the sponsorship of the trip.

Wilner Burke, director of half-time activities for the Packers game, invited the Eskymo Band to perform for the second time this season because it was such a success at the Cardinal game show in Green Bay on Sept. 11. "That was a pre-season game," said Burke "and the band did so well that our own Packer bandmen thought they should be invited back for a season game."

Regional television coverage of the Sunday afternoon game will show the band to viewers in 13 states.

The excellence which impressed fans at the Cardinal game and which won the band the unusual repeat invitation from the Packers in the same season is the result of a lot of work by the students under the direction of John Chown. The band will perform the same show in Milwaukee that was so successful in Green Bay a month ago.

One hundred ten members of the band shortened up on their summer vacation to give a month of practice in August to perfect their performance, which offers precision drill and dance steps to the classical "Finlandia" by Sibelius.

The band, said Claude Tobin, local manager for Greyhound Lines, will leave Escanaba at 6 a. m. on Sunday, Oct. 24 and return the same evening about 9 p. m. after the game. There will be a rest stop, meal stops, and opportunity for church services and, Chown hopes, a rehearsal.

Chown will take 106 members of his marching band, 7 substitutes and several adults for each of the three buses.

Mineral Reservation Tax Proposed In Michigan

Armed with an attorney general's opinion that separate underground mineral rights may be taxed apart from surface title, a committee of the Michigan Senate is launching an investigation.

It aims "to close a vast tax loophole in tax free absentee ownership of mineral reservations in the Upper Peninsula," says Senator Joseph S. Mack (D-Ironwood) chairman, Senator Garland Lane (D-Flint) chairman of the Appropriations Committee, was named vice chairman.

Other members of the committee include Senator Raymond Dzendzel (D-Detroit) majority leader, Senator George Fitzgerald (D-Grosse Pointe Park) chairman of the Taxation Committee, and Republican Senators Charles O. Zolnier, Benton Harbor and Gilbert E. Bursley, Ann Arbor.

"Our first task will be to pinpoint the ownership of all existing mineral reservations," Mack said. "Armed with authority to issue subpoenas and subpoenas, the committee will request the known owners of large mineral reservations to attend preliminary hearing before the committee on a date which will be determined and announced later."

Mack said "I have a determination from the office of Attorney General Frank J. Kelley that mineral rights should be treated and classified properly as property rights."

The committee will work toward a recommendation to the Senate to amend the existing statute which presently places the complete burden of property tax on the surface owner.

The committee has a two-fold purpose, Mack stated.

1. To determine the proportionate base value of property mineral rights held when separate from surface ownership.

2. The committee will investigate to find out how much money has, and is being paid in royalties from mineral reservations held by companies, not engaged in mining operations in the Upper Peninsula.

Senator Mack commented, "it's my understanding that this amount totals to hundreds of millions of dollars, primarily paid to eastern land holding associations. These people do not provide employment," Mack stated, "therefore, they should contribute to the support of local units of government and the State of Michigan, proportionately to what they take out."

Mack stated, "I have noted nothing in the original reservation records which would require the present surface owners to continue paying the complete property tax, which includes property now classed as mineral reservations."

"Our investigation," Mack said, "is not punitive, but is long overdue for the enactment of legislation which would close the loopholes that has compelled the surface owners to bear the burden of taxation and the subsurface owners to remain tax free."

Mack was authorized by the committee to employ whatever staff and legal counsel is necessary to conduct a complete and comprehensive investigation and report to the Michigan Senate their findings and recommendations.

Basement Education

Ivan Ryan's project at Northern Michigan University to train rural Upper Peninsula school dropouts so they are better prepared for modern living is one of the most impressive studies in American poverty with which we're familiar.

Northern has turned its skills to bear on this problem of the citizen with too little education to cope with the demands of our complex society (and especially its economy) in an impressive manner. It may be Northern's judgment, as indicated by Ryan's reports on the project, that it has performed no wonders in rehabilitation, but we believe that its project has been thoroughly successful in that it has showed the depth and difficulty of helping the part of our population that isn't caught up in the process that produces affluence.

The most flagrant, hurtful poverty in this country afflicts our Negroes, but we have very few Negroes in the Upper Peninsula and Northern's study of school dropouts shows that we have quite a persistent, sizeable pool of poverty. Its victims may not be in bone-grinding want, but they lack the education necessary for a good living today.

Northern's study showed hundreds of these high school dropouts in the three county areas under study in the period of recent years which would make some still prospects for further study. It took hard recruiting to get together a class of only a few more than 30.

The work with this group on the Northern campus showed the problem of poverty in dismaying nakedness. It is essentially a thing of the spirit, finally, of mental outlook and morale. It may start out with the lack of means to go to high school and compete with the other kids in matters of dress and value systems that come from exposure to books, travel and bright people, but it doesn't wind up that way.

This is why it cannot be solved simply by an outlay of government funds to give these people some of the good things that their more fortunate friends have. The lack of basic education is the basement stone of this social failure. The study showed that at least some of these dropouts have a good enough mind to do high school work well, but they were allowed to drop out of school. They didn't lose just a diploma, they lost their best chance for being their full selves, and using all the talents that they were born with.

Once in this rut it becomes increasingly difficult to spring them, to get them to go back to school, or by some other means to get the education that we build happiness upon. What hope is there for a young man in today's employment race who cannot read well enough to understand simple instruction for machine operation, the warnings on the labels of chemicals he must use on the job, who can't do the simple math that makes the product right?

It has been suggested that perhaps Michigan should increase its compulsory school age from 16 to 17. Maybe it should. Obviously the schools should never be permitted to indulge the feeling of "good riddance" when they let go a troublesome or troubled student. He'll be around as a problem from then on and it'll be increasingly difficult to help him help himself.

The war on poverty is a concept in the finest traditions of American equality of opportunity. If it is to become a government boondoggle we will have missed an opportunity to strengthen America substantially. And if it is not to become a boondoggle it must be a program built into our educational system and into our welfare and health care systems where there can be a greater emphasis on prevention than on cure, for this is the road to success.

Community Light

Editor and Publisher Year Book reports that as of Sept. 30, 1964, the 1,763 daily newspapers in the United States had a combined circulation of 60,412,266.

This is the highest circulation in history and a 2.5 per cent increase over 1963.

Sunday papers numbered 561 with a circulation of 48,883,076. This is also a gain over 1963, up by 11 papers and a million and a half circulation.

All of which information is apropos of observing that the week of Oct. 10-16 is National Newspaper Week.

These figures add up to a lot of newspapers. There can never be too many of them in a free land, however, for the quality of freedom depends in great measure on the news reporting, news analysis and news editorializing performed by an unfettered and competitive press.

The figures add up to a lot of readers, too, especially when we add some 8,000 weeklies with a circulation of more than 24 million. The circulation numbers overlap, of course; they include people who subscribe to more than one paper.

On the other hand, they do not include millions of others who are not counted in the paid circulation but who see and read and are otherwise exposed to newspapers.

It is safe to say that the individual in America today who does not read at least some part of some newspaper regularly is a pretty rare bird.

Whenever any newspaper, large or small, goes out of business or is shut down by a strike, it is as if a light were turned off in the community it served.

No other communications medium fills so many and so varied needs of modern life—from want ads to advice columns, from society notes to vital statistics, from comics to sermons.

But all of these are secondary to a newspaper's reason for existence—of being a NEWSpaper. Yet in this day of almost instantaneous electronic dissemination of major news events, even this category has undergone fundamental change.

People look to their newspaper not just for headlines or snot news but the news behind the news. They want background, explanation, analysis to help them relate today's complex news to yesterday's and to enable them to understand tomorrow's news when it happens.

They want not only dispassionate reporting; they want opinion on all sides of every issue—opinion that is grounded in accuracy and informed with integrity and courage.

A newspaper is a light in its community and in its country. That is why totalitarian governments, which prosper in human darkness, must gag them. That is why freedom of the press was the first right to be catalogued in the Bill of Rights of the Constitution.

Stake In Austria

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

VIENNA — (NEA) — The free world has an important stake in Austria as the West's easternmost industrial nation in Europe, as an outpost country set deep among the Soviet satellites.

It has to be of consequence, therefore, that Austria's basically healthy economy is plagued with some difficulties that are far from trivial.

In a highly competitive world, Austria must export to live. One-third of its total output is now sent abroad. Preliminary figures show that its exports actually were increased for the first half of 1965 by 11 per cent over the comparable 1964 period.

But, like some other western European lands, Austria suffers a serious labor shortage. This year it has imported 25,000 foreign workers, mainly Yugoslavs and Turks. In 1964 the figure was 10,600 less.

Unhappily, not enough of these have even rudimentary skills. One large industrial firm says that last year it lost a month's production through lack of trained help. Much of the lost output would have gone abroad.

To offset such shortages, Austria needs more automation, which takes heavy capital investment. Capital, however, is also somewhat short.

A country hardly richer than Maine, with a little more than 7 million people, cannot move too much foreign capital without stirring other dangers.

One is inflation. Austria's "importing" inflation by allowing too much foreign investment. American interests are currently offering to help finance a new automobile plant, for example, in Austria.

The money is needed, but it will not be automatically accepted. Heavy infusions of capital from neighboring prosperous West Germany might be good, except that Austria's plan to build German control of some enterprises might result. The seven years of Nazi rule are not forgotten.

The country also is heavily dependent on imports for critical raw materials. These include two-thirds of its high-grade coal, 14 million tons of iron ore a year, and of its aluminum-bearing bauxite, perhaps a fifth or more of its food supply.

Its trading abroad is threatened by the common tariff front being erected by the six nations of the European Common Market. This front includes West Germany, Austria's largest export market and largest source of imports.

If West Germany has a 20 per cent duty on certain items, Austrian goods must pay it in full. Yet it may be reduced to 6 per cent for the German partners in the Common Market.

Austria's only way to compete, in the circumstances, is to lower prices—which puts heavy strain on labor and technical efficiency.

Austria's membership in the so-called "outer seven," embracing Switzerland, Sweden, Norway, Portugal, Denmark and Great Britain, is helpful but not decisive. It needs closer association with the Common Market.

As if all these problems were not enough, Austria is torn now over how to finance perhaps $50 million worth of flood damage resulting from heavy spring and late summer rains.

A burden of this sort can be critical for a small nation. Nevertheless, Austria goes plunging forward with reasonable success despite all these very real hazards and some others relating to the coalition nature of its government.

It trades with more than 130 countries. One big firm sells to 70 nations, another to 50, and so on. Its reputation for quality and precision products is wide. Landlocked, it builds fishing boats for Nigeria, a ferry for Ecuador, cargo boats for a Nile fleet. It builds whole factories for export.

Luckily, tourism keeps rising enough to offset—so far—an annual excess of imports. Tourism has quadrupled in a decade. In 1945, Austria had six cruise ski lifts. Today it has more than 700 scattered across its craggy mountains.

Austria has big plans for power expansion and industrial growth. But its tiny size and its host of problems keep it operating always in delicate balance.

Austria's friends in the free world must inevitably share the country's hope that this balance is not only maintained but improved as well. It is a linchpin in the prosperity of western Europe.

Novel Triggers By 100 Years

L.A. Murders

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The homicide detective read a paragraph from a novel in which a murder is committed:

"Every nerve in my body was a steel spring, and my grip closed on the revolver. The trigger gave, and the smooth underbelly of the butt jogged my palm. And so, with that crisp, whispering sound, it all began."

And so, police Lt. Earl A. Deemer said, it also began for Wayne Lee Welch, 18-year-old philosophy student. It ended, said Deemer, in the sniper killing of two men, for which Welch is charged with murder.

The novel was "The Stranger," by Albert Camus, required reading for Welch in junior college.

Deemer, after questioning Welch, said: "He told me he got the idea from this book. He made up his mind he wanted to commit a murder."

The tedious investigation of the apparently motiveless slaying started last Aug. 12, when John M. Kimball, 57, and Alexander Lopez Montez, 51, trucking firm workers, were shot down in their employer's parking lot.

Officers checked every employee of the firm, then turned to part-time workers. Welch was one of them. He was questioned and released. Then, police said, they traced the murder weapon, a rifle, to Welch. He was arrested Tuesday.

Deemer said that under interrogation Welch spoke freely of his literary tastes — existentialism and the French poets Baudelaire and Rimbaud.

"When he finally did admit the murders he mentioned that he was inspired by Camus," the police officer said.

The detective quoted Welch as saying he did not know the victims. He said Welch told him he had purchased a .308-caliber rifle for $100 a few days before the shootings.

The annual dinner for caddies will be held at the Escanaba Golf Club, Marvin Coon, former warden at Marquette Branch Prison, will speak. Robert O'Neill is in charge of the dinner. The caddy committee of the club is composed of Wesley Haddock, Harry Hogan and John A. Lemmer.

John Stevenson, a pioneer resident of Escanaba and one of the oldest residents of the peninsula, will observe his 91st birthday anniversary today. Mr. Stevenson will spend the day at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Anna Gunderson, 505 S. 12th St.

50 YEARS AGO

Vogel's regenerated minstrels are coming to the Delft Theater. It will not be a usual "minstrel show" that holds the boards but rather will be an attraction in the nature of a musical comedy with minstrel trimmings.

Silas Parker, architect for the Davis Milk Machinery Co., Chicago, is now engaged in erecting the machinery in the first certified milk plant to be erected in the Upper Peninsula. The machinery is being installed in a new building that has been erected on Oak Street. Manufacture, and will be ready for operation within a short time.

Moscow Ages By 100 Years

MOSCOW (AP)—Moscow, the Communist party paper Pravda reported today, is at least a hundred years older than people thought it was.

Eighteen years ago the city celebrated its 800th birthday, the anniversary of the first mention of the city in written chronicles.

The new discovery came because an old chapel in the Kremlin began cracking due to unsound foundations.

When a repair crew began digging to shore up the foundations of old houses and shops at a depth of 12 to 20 feet, buildings not known to have been on the hill. They represented an active village.

V. Ivanov, archaeological director of the Kremlin, estimated that the age of Moscow would have to be pushed back another hundred years.

Newspaper want ads are a big sell: Eight hundred million was spent on classified ads last year — more than for all television spot announcements or radio advertising.

Ann Landers

Hotels Expect People To Steal

Dear Ann Landers: We are trying to raise our son to be an honest, law-abiding citizen, but we aren't getting much help from the outside. Here is an example of what I mean:

Last week I found a hotel ash tray in our son's room. (He is 15.) I asked him where he got it and he said, "I took it. I'm collecting souvenirs." I told him it wasn't right to appropriate hotel property — no matter what he called it. I then wrote a letter to the hotel manager describing the ash tray. I explained Hal had taken it, and asked how much he owed.

The reply from the hotel manager read: "Your boy does not owe us anything. We WANT people to take our ash trays. It is good advertising." This letter has made me a laughing stock at home and set my "integrity and honesty program" back 10 years.

I realize things have changed since you and I were 15 but have they changed so much that people are expected to steal? Your opinion is wanted — and needed — MDJ.

Dear MDJ: Several weeks ago I published a letter from a woman who complained because a relative stole ash trays, sugar bowls, linen — whatever she could get her hands on — from hotels and motels all over the country. Her home was practically furnished in Early Holiday Inn. She asked my opinion. I said, "It is dishonest and indefensible."

I received several letters describing me as naive and foolish. I was told that people are EXPECTED to walk off with items bearing the name of the establishment — (I got this word from outfits that manufacture the gadgets).

Shocked? You bet. But I'm not budging. If it is foolish to oppose stealing then I'm a fool, but I stand foursquare behind my original advice.

Dear Ann Landers: I have just reread this letter and it sounds like petty high school stuff, but it is far more serious. I can't express myself clearly in writing, Ann, but I do need help.

I'm a married woman with a family. A close friend of mine (and her Daisy) repeated some dreadful things about a mutual friend whom I will call June. I telephoned June and told her I wanted nothing to do with her because of the things she had said.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Delta County Master Plan Goal Of Board

Looking toward a master plan for Delta County and a coordinated approach to the development of public facilities to serve the people of the area, the Delta County Board of Supervisors appropriated $5,000 to finance the initial steps in a planning program.

The appropriation came from the county contingent fund and made no change in the total county budget of $559,596.

The 1966 budget was approved with minor changes. The county anticipates $549,596 from property tax and $10,000 in fees to balance the budget.

The Public Affairs committee of the County Board recommended the $5,000 toward the hiring of consultants and the development of the master plan for the county.

Coordinated Plan
The action was the result of a growing belief that benefit will result when the county has a plan for the orderly development of public facilities, coordinated through the work of a Delta County Planning Commission.

The committee discussion indicated the value of a cooperative planning process in which the needs of the schools, roads and bridges, airport and other public agencies will be considered in efforts to achieve the goals of each. It was agreed that the $5,000 will not go far but would make a cooperative start.

All public agencies — highway department, Forest Service, county, the cities of Escanaba and Gladstone, and others — will be consulted in the proposed development of a county master plan.

The report of the ways and means committee was presented by Chairman Harold Gustafson at the afternoon session. He had been absent in the morning because of a scheduled health check-up at Iron Mountain, and the presentation at the opening session was made by Supervisor Grey Knaus of Cornell, committee member.

Minor Change
A minor change was made in the Civil Defense budget by vote of the Supervisors. There had been a proposal to increase the salary of the Defense director by $100 and in committee there was a tie vote.

The Board heard Frank Stupak of Gladstone call for approval of the raise and by voice vote it was approved. Presumably the cost will be only $50 to the county, for one-half the costs of the department are paid for from federal funds. The salary of the director is $4,700 and the Defense budget is $8,165.

In other business the Board set the payment for meals for prisoners in the Delta County jail at 75 cents each, unchanged from last year; the pay of Road Commission members at $500; for supervisors $15 per day plus 10 cents per mile travel; and set hours for Court House employees 9 to noon and 1 to 5.

Approved paying $200 to Michigan Tech for a study of stone on the Garden Peninsula; adopted a resolution calling improvement of M 35 in Marquette County; and tabled for study a proposal to elect two members to the Delta County Planning Commission.

EJA - William Mineau, president; Marlee Demerise, secretary; Darlene Gustafson, treasurer.

Profco - Robert Carlson, president; Judy Wigand, secretary; Dennis Koehler, treasurer.

Profcon - Christine Erickson, president; Cheryl Ostlund, secretary; Jim Anderson, treasurer.

The official staff of the companies will be completed with the naming of vice president, sales and vice president, production.

Each of the companies is composed of 25 young people, local high school students, who are enrolled in Junior Achievement as an experience in the free enterprise system. Six junior executives of local industries serve as advisers.

U.N. President Rests In Hospital

NEW YORK (UPI) — Amintore Fanfani, president of the United Nations General Assembly, was "resting comfortably" today at Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center but a decision on surgery to correct a leg injury was still to be made.

Fanfani, 57, fell on a wet pavement Saturday and damaged a thigh tendon. His thigh was placed in a cast. Monday, Fanfani received several members of the Italian mission to the U.N.

TV Man Injured In Rights Fight

CRAWFORDVILLE, Ga. (UPI) — A television cameraman filming another unsuccessful attempt by Negroes to board school buses for whites was injured slightly today when a white youth shoved the newsman's camera into his face.

Laurens Pierce of the Columbia Broadcasting System had turned his camera toward a 13-year-old youth waiting to board the buses. Suddenly the boy reached up, grabbed Pierce's camera and shoved it hard against the cameraman's face.

Blood flowed freely from a cut on Pierce's nose. The unidentified youth then ran into a building where other white students waited for the buses. Sheriff M. B. Moore told Pierce not to get upset.

"He's just a boy, you know," the sheriff said.

It was the 15th consecutive day of racial protests in Crawfordville, where Monday night mile-long line of singing Negroes marched through town to the courthouse square where Ku Klux Klansmen, held back by state troopers, stood whistling "dixie."

Negroes Collared
In the bus-loading attempt, 15 Negro students were collared by officers and held against a stone wall until the buses pulled away.

During the march Monday night some of the 150 white black-shirted klansmen, surged forward to block the street as the 700 Negroes approached. Troopers shouted for the whites to move back and they did.

Urged by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. at an earlier rally to press for "justice," the Negroes held an hour-long demonstration on the darkened square to the jeers of the whites.

King Goes Home
King returned to his home in Atlanta, 100 miles away, immediately after his 20-minute speech to the rally. He did not participate in the march.

While King was speaking at the Friendship Baptist Church, jumping off place for civil rights marches the past two weeks, about 250 persons attended a Klan rally on the courthouse square about three miles away.

Sporting a general's stars on his black shirt, Klansman J. Howard Sims, the principal speaker, told the crowd, "it's

Romney Appeals For Action On Natural Beauty

LANSING (UPI) — Gov. George Romney today called for a "lot of action programs" to make "Michigan the best groomed state in the country."

Romney made his remarks before 450 persons attending the Governor's Conference on Natural Beauty for Michigan.

The governor, who was called the "conservation governor" by the state conservation director, said public apathy had to be overcome to get a wide ranging beautification program to the people so that they would constantly think of a "beautiful Michigan."

"There's nothing like a four-season state like Michigan with all its variety and diversification," Romney said.

He urged the delegates to take a wide look at all the problems relating to beauty and conservation and to make recommendations for "action programs."

"When I am told Torch Lake and Lake Charlevoix are in the early stages of pollution I get concerned," Romney said.

He called for a doubling of inspection personnel on the Water Resources Commission to guard against pollution.

"We also need an adequate internal state program to combat lake and stream pollution," Romney said.

Pope Schedules Public Meeting

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — The general superior of the powerful Jesuit order accused the Roman Catholic Church today of having "a superiority complex" in missionary work.

Pope Paul VI, meanwhile, scheduled a public session for promulgation of decrees on Oct. 28, the anniversary of Pope John XXIII's election in 1958. The decrees to be promulgated were not announced. But they will definitely include a key Church government document which strengthens the bishops' independence from the Roman Curia.

The Rev. Pedro Arrupe, a Basque priest recently elected head of the Jesuits and sometimes called "the black pope," drew most attention at the Ecumenical Council today with a scathing attack on insufficiencies in the church's missionary work.

The council later voted to end debate on the topic and returned a missionary document to commission for further revisions.

Father Arrupe said missionary defects in the Church included: — "An infantile approach" aimed at the level of children and the illiterates.

— "Sentimentalism," which makes the Church message look as if it only suited the sick.

— "A superiority complex" in the way missionaries go into other lands and ignore and look down on the capabilities of local peoples.

Tuition Increase

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Tuition costs at the Rochester Institute of Technology will be increased $150 beginning in the fall, 1966, term, officials say. The new tuition will total $1,350.

Red China Lacks Admission Votes For U.N. Seat

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Only three or four of the dozen or so French African countries seem likely to vote with France to seat Communist China in the United Nations this year.

That as much as anything is expected to prevent a majority in the General Assembly in favor of replacing the Chinese Nationalists with the Chinese Communists on U.N. bodies.

The assembly will vote on the issue in late October or early November. Delegates who have studied the outlook carefully figure that the margin against seating Communist China may be only half what it was the last time the assembly voted on the issue, in October 1963.

Difference Smaller
That time the difference was 16 votes — 41 in favor of the Communist Chinese and 57 against. Twelve countries abstained.

This time, indications are that the difference may be only eight votes, with 48 in favor, 56 against and 13 abstaining.

In 1963, France and 10 of her African allies voted against the Chinese Communists.

Later, Paris established diplomatic relations with Peking and made known that the French vote next time would be in Peking's favor.

That aroused speculation that most of the French African countries would switch, too, and give the Chinese Communists a majority.

Two-Thirds Needed
But some close students of voting probabilities now believe that only the Central African Republic, the Congo — Brazzaville — Mauritania and perhaps Senegal will make the switch. They say Chinese Communist tactics have alarmed the others and made them firmly anti-Communist.

Other observers expect the vote will be much closer. But even if the Chinese Communists should get a majority, they could not come here. The assembly decided in 1961 that a two-thirds vote would be needed to settle the issue.

Diplomats generally believe it would do so again if that decision should be challenged.

The United States and its supporters argue that Communist China should be kept away from the United Nations because it is warlike and the organization is only for "peace-loving states."

Red China's friends say it must be brought into the United Nations because the organization cannot work properly without representatives of the world's largest nation.

A letter of communication was adopted for Henry Trippe, who has been director of the tax writing department and will go to St. Joseph County, where he has accepted a similar post.

A motion was made to appoint Patrick LaFave to the Schoolcraft Post but was withdrawn. The tax writing committee of the board has been named to appoint a successor. LaFave resigned Monday from the tax writing committee, a move necessary legally if he is to be appointed by the committee. He is city assessor.

Roy Jones was appointed airport manager and Robert Smith, assistant. Sending of bills to collect $10 monthly hangar rental fees at the airport has been approved by the board.

Announcement was made of the U. P. Supervisors meeting here Dec. 3-4. U. S. Cong. Raymond Clevenger will be the banquet speaker. Representative Dominic Jacobetti and Einar Eerlandson and State Senator Thomas Schweigert will be among speakers in the program.

The resignations of Trippe as tax director and of Edwin Carlson, as drain commissioner were accepted. Carlson is leaving for Pontiac.

Authorization was given for the execution of a contract of $12,000 for airport lighting, clearing the way for the Michigan Department of Aeronautics project.

A veteran burial allowance was approved for Clarence R. Martin. The board granted permission to file an application with the Municipal Finance Commission to issue $225,000 in bonds for a medical care facility, as approved by voters in a special election.

Silver Wedding Reception For Wilson Couple

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Beauchamp of Wilson were honored Saturday with a surprise reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Beauchamp on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary. Over 100 friends and relatives were present.

Edward Beauchamp and the former Olive Myners were married in St. Francis Xavier Church in Spalding Oct. 3, 1940 and were attended by Joyce Beauchamp, daughter by his former marriage, and by Robert Myners, the bride's brother. The bridesmaid, now Mrs. Theodore Asti, Jr., of Milwaukee, and her family were present. Myners, who was unable to attend the reception, called the couple. Mrs. Beauchamp was the daughter of the late Captain and Mrs. John Myners of Vulcan.

Among the many wedding gifts received was a money tree from their 17 grandchildren. The anniversary cake centered the table and was flanked by silver candle holders and silver bells. Mrs. Beauchamp was presented with a corsage of white carnations and red roses. For the reception she wore a blue print sheer dress with matching accessories and a bracelet which she had worn on her wedding day, a gift to her mother from her husband, shortly after their marriage 45 years earlier.

The Beauchamps have nine children, Ervin, Milwaukee; Gerald, Lubbock, Tex.; Leo, Wilson; Mrs. Asti; Mrs. Robert (Elaine) Johnson; Mrs. Milton (Gladys) Klein, Clayton, Milwaukee; Harvey, Escanaba; and Olive at home. All were present with their families except Gerald and Clayton.

Presiding at the silver service was a granddaughter, Christine Klein. Granddaughters, Dawn Beauchamp served the cake and Jerilyn Asti, the punch. A daughter, Olive, had the guest book.

Other guests were from Milwaukee, Escanaba, Vulcan, Norway and the surrounding communities. Assisting with the serving were Mrs. Earl Kell, Wilson; Mrs. James Farrell, Grook; Mrs. Eva Faccio, Hermansville; and Mrs. Theodore Fazer, of Spalding.

Missionary At Bethany Church Thursday Night

Miss Alice K. Anderson, veteran missionary in China and now serving in Hong Kong, will speak at Bethany Lutheran Church Thursday, Oct. 14, at 7:30 p. m. This program is sponsored by the Church Women, in charge of Humble Circle, and families of the area are urged to avail themselves of the opportunity to hear this dedicated missionary and teacher.

Miss Anderson taught missionaries' children in Kikung-shan, China, until political conditions forced her to leave. She then was loaned to the former United Lutheran Church of America in British Guiana, South America. In 1954 she went to Hong Kong where she now continues in the fields of evangelism and education.

She is a native of Minnesota and a graduate of Gustavus Adolphus College. She received the master of Religion Education degree in 1960 from the Biblical Seminary in New York.

Mrs. Arthur Olson will be the soloist for the evening. A social hour following the program will be in charge of Charity Circle.

VFW Auxiliary Meeting Held Monday Night

The Ladies Auxiliary to Hiawatha Post 2098, Veterans of Foreign Wars, held a monthly meeting Monday night at the V. F. W. Hall.

Applications for membership were received from Leona Erickson and Pearl V. Dupont. Initiated into the Auxiliary were June Walker, Mary Pilon and E. Joyce Rodmonich.

Lucille Cholger, hospital chairman, reminded members of comfort items for the Iron Mountain VA Hospital and also lap robes. A report on the Fall Rally, held in Escanaba recently, was given by Helen St. Vincent, and Lucille Cholger reported on the banquet.

Edna Ambeau will be chairman of the membership dinner to be held Wednesday, Oct. 27, and Lillian Anderson will be in charge of the dining room. Rose Olson received the attendance award.

During the social hour with the Post, Lorraine Briere and her committee served lunch.

If you want to marinate a leg of lamb before roasting, have the meat boned, rolled and tied.

Hints From Heloise

Wallpaper Makes Shelf Lining Easy

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise: Your suggestion of buying wallpaper for shelf lining was as good as the day somebody invented rest!

When I asked to see the broken-rolls table, I found it so cheap that I bought enough to line all my shelves, linen closets, and dresser drawers.

It's wider and thicker than regular shelf paper, and comes in different widths, which makes it wonderful for lining those deep linen closets and dresser drawers, since it only requires one width instead of the usual two of shelf paper for this purpose.

My shelves, dresser drawers, etc., are just wonderful now. May the good Lord see fit to let you live for ages to come.

Minnie Snyder

Dear Minnie: And, may He let people like you who write "thank you notes," live forever and ever. Thanks, Hon.

Here's a new switch I learned a few months ago, that will really send you off to another planet:

CEILING paper (which is usually white, with white or silver designs) is also WONDERFUL for lining shelves, etc. There is no problem with gaudy colors and designs. So is the imitation plastic-type wallpaper. It's real thick.

Of course, ANY kind of wallpaper may be placed on shelves, wrong side up, because that side is plain, and the pattern does not show at all. White or shell-colored paper will go with everything.

So, whether you live in a house or an apartment (where also could one live?), buy some of that useful and inexpensive wallpaper.

Know what else you can use it for? Gift wrapping! It's cheaper than regular gift-wrap, opaque, order (so takes less), and it's beautiful—since it comes in so

Japanese Motif For Woman's Club Annual Party

Because the Woman's Club public luncheon and bridge is using a Japanese motif as the basis of the decorating scheme, it is being called a "Shogakukin Party." Shogakukin means scholarship and the affair is being given, by the Education and Youth committees, for the benefit of the scholarship fund.

Mrs. Arne Arntzen will act as hostess and welcome guests in her native oriental dress. She is also directing some members of the committee in origami, which is the ancient Japanese art of folding paper into three dimensional figures. These will be used as table decorations.

The "Shogakukin Party" will be held at the Highland Golf Club at 1 p. m. Oct. 20. Reservations must be made before Oct. 18 with Mrs. Edward Harkins, 786-6141 or Mrs. John O'Brien, 786-4400.

The name of Mrs. Walter Bacon was inadvertently omitted from the list of Education committee members who are planning this affair.

Sawyer Fighter Squadron Rated Gunnery Champs

The 62nd Fighter Interceptor Squadron flashed past K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base at 2:34 p.m. Monday in triumphant return from Tyndall Air Force Base at Panama City, Fla., where last week it won the championship of Category 1 in the William Tell world wide interceptor weapons meet for 1965.

Category 1 is for Air Force F101 Voodoo interceptors and the sweep of honors was the first for Sawyer's Voodoo team in their supersonic (Mach 1.5) fighters.

Participating in the Florida meet were the U. S. Air Force Defense Command from the continental U. S. and Labrador, U. S. Air Forces in Europe from Soesterburg, Amsterdam, the Netherlands; the Royal Canadian Air Force Air Defense Command from Bagbyville, Quebec; and the U. S. Air National Guard.

Col. Amos E. Wagge led his squadron in a Sawyer Base flyover in diamond formation of four planes. The fighters next came by four in line and then peeled off and landed. There were 250 persons out to greet and congratulate the best aerial gunnery team in the world and a reception followed at the officers club with persons from Marquette, Escanaba and other mid-U. P. cities congratulating the fliers after they had been commended by Col. Pete Sianis, wing commander, Col. Robert M. Hansen, base commander, and General Terrell of the 30th Air Division.

The 62nd Fighter Interceptor squadron was awarded the following first place trophies: Richard Bong for overall tactical performance; RCAF for Canadian-U. S. competition; Douglas for best Genie rocket.

WHAT MEN WON'T do for deer hunting! This merry crew of nimrods headed by Lester Johnson and John Orland of Ingallston in Menominee County, constructed this cable car across the Big Cedar River to reach a favored hunting area in the deer season that opens Nov. 13. The river is bankful and difficult to cross in a boat after recent rains so this hunt party strung a cable between trees, suspended a platform on two pulleys and used the bottom lines to pull themselves across the stream. "Even John's Weimaraner likes the crossing" said Johnson. The river has no bridge from its mouth for 10 miles upstream. (Daily Press Photo)

Safety Belts Save Face

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — A team of plastic surgeons which made a study of automobile accident injuries reported Monday that nearly all the major facial injuries they found in a four-year period could have been prevented by the use of seat belts.

The doctors from the University of Michigan Medical School said in a report to the American Society of Plastic and Reconstructive Surgeons meeting here that 50 per cent of all facial injuries to drivers and front-seat passengers resulted from hitting the windshield. They accounted for 70 per cent of all facial injuries in auto accidents.

The report said the injuries were not fatal but highly disfiguring without reconstructive surgery. They said that in accidents the victim's heads usually break partly through the windshield, which because of its lamination, remains largely intact.

Seat belts could prevent almost all windshield impacts in standard automobiles because there would be room for the passenger to bend forward without striking the windshield, the report said. However, it added, the instrument panel should be padded to prevent possible facial bone fractures.

Michigan Vote

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Pat V. McNamara and Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., voted with the minority Monday as the Senate, by a 47-45 vote, refused to vote cloture and curb debate on taking up the right-to-work law repealer.

Roosevelt from 1933 to 1940, has been honored by the National Association of Postmasters at the group's national convention. Farley, who was 77, last May 30, said Sunday he did not particularly enjoy his role of elder statesman, adding:

"I have found there are three stages in a man's life — youth, middle age and that time when people say 'Heavens, but you're looking good!'"

Crystal Falls ran roughshod over Ontonagon in the 53-0 Copper Country Conference victory, the sixth straight this season for Coach Dick Mettlich's Trojans. . . Six different backs scored touchdowns with Bob Ahola and Jerry Bortolini registering two each. . . The eight touchdowns alone accounted for 201 yards in the rushing department. . . In fairness to Ontonagon, it must be noted that Coach Dick Koski was playing without the services of seven regulars who have been sidelined by injuries.

In Lower Michigan football action over the weekend Coach Al Siskman's Bay City Handys team battled to a 6-6 standoff with Pontiac Central while Pellston, coached by Tom St. Germain, bowed to Charlevoix, 37-6.

Houghton, beaten only by Crystal Falls in the first game of the season, edged high scoring Lake Linden, 13-12, in a Copper Country feature. . . Jerry Lajeunesse scored both the Houghton touchdowns on a 70 yard pass play from Bill Gauthier and a 52 yard run, with Gauthier plunging for the extra point that provided the margin of victory. . . Houghton has a 5-1 record while Lake Linden closed out its season with a 4-2 mark, one of the best in many years for the Whiz Kids.

Rain, sleet, mud and fog failed to put a damper on the Calumet attack in a 32-18 decision over Hancock. . . The Copper Kings piled up 435 yards from scrimmage, 223 of it on the ground. . . Quarterback George Kingstrom tossed two touchdown passes as Coach Wayne Sickler's team notched its fourth victory in six starts.

Baraga, the team that must face the high flying Crystal Falls Trojans this week, dropped its sixth straight to L'Anse au Loup by a 13-0 margin. . . Baraga was thrown for a loss of 14 yards in the rushing department and made only 12 through passing for a -2 net yardage.

Lois Cox, bowling in the Thursday Bowlamara League, rolled an all spare game of 183. . . She carries a big 164 average, second only to Shirley Peltier's 165 in the league.

Duane Some, one of Northern Michigan University's all-time basketball greats, has been appointed director of intramural activities at the university. . . Native of Roseville, Mich., Some earned four varsity letters and set an all-time Northern record by playing in 97 of the 98 games the Wildcats played during his career.

Marquette, Escanaba's Saturday night for this weekend, suffered a 21-0 shutout at the hands of the Eau Claire Old Abers in their last start. . . Neither team scored until the closing minutes of the third period when Eau Claire exploded for three touchdowns in less than five minutes.

Jon Fryxell, former outstanding Houghton High School athlete, is one of 10 sophomores on Coach John Erickson's University of Wisconsin basketball squad which will open practice this weekend. . . Fryxell is one of the shortest players on the squad at 6 feet.

This area is losing a great baseball enthusiast with Henry Tripple of Manistique leaving for a new position in downstate St. Joseph County. . . Tripple has been an active worker in the Manistique youth baseball program for five years as manager and coach of the American Legion sponsored Chiefs of the Waubesa League.

Gordy LeDuc, basketball and baseball coach at Negaunee St. Paul, writes to say his school is looking for another basketball opponent for the coming season. . . Michigan State will not face a team this year and St. Paul is seeking to fill the opening. . . Any schools interested may contact LeDuc at GR 3-4611.

Kingsford, Crystal Rate Among Top 10 In High School Poll

By United Press International
Frankenmuth dropped from second to third to make room for Bay City Central, which moved up to first place. . . Kingsford and Crystal Falls were tied for fourth place. . . The poll was based on the voting in the United Press International poll of high school football coaches.

Class B leader Albion and Class C-D leader Middleville also increased their leads with outstanding victories over the weekend. . . Bay City Central's overwhelming 49-0 victory over Saginaw Arthur Hill left little doubt as to their domination of the Class A poll as one of last week's finalists. . . Kingsford and Crystal Falls were tied for fourth place. . . The poll was based on the voting in the United Press International poll of high school football coaches.

UM Halfback Out For Year

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — The Michigan Wolverines have lost the services of starting left halfback Jim Detwiler for the rest of the season.

The 6-foot, 3-inch junior injured his left knee in the Michigan loss to Michigan State Saturday and will undergo an operation today. . . The hard driving Detwiler, fast for his 217 pounds, was instrumental in the Wolverines' Rose Bowl drive last year as a sophomore. He played in all ten games, scored three touchdowns and gained 282 yards, with a 4-yard average per carry.

Detwiler is the second starting player to be lost to knee injuries. Earlier this fall, starting offensive guard Bill Keating had surgery on a knee and will be out for the season. . . The rest of Michigan's battered backfield will probably be ready to play against Purdue in the Wolverines' homecoming game Saturday. Right halfback Carl Ward, with a badly bruised left hip, quarterback Wally Gabler, with bruised ribs, and fullback Dave Fisher, with two bruised hips, missed part of the action last week against Michigan State.

Junior Rick Sygar will replace Detwiler at halfback. . . Detroit St. Ambrose put on the hardest rush of the week by moving from fourth place in Class C-D up to second place behind Middleville. Each team collected four first place votes.

Koufax Four-Hits Twins As Dodgers Snatch Lead

By JOE ST. AMANT

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The racehorse Los Angeles Dodgers backed up a four-hit pitching job by Sandy Koufax to blank the Minnesota Twins, 7-0, Monday, and take a lead of three games to two in the World Series.

Koufax struck out 10, walked only one, and turned back the first 12 Twins in order. Three Dodger doubleplays got him out of any potential trouble and he had to face only 29 men.

The first hit off the 29-year-old lefthander was a single looped into center by Harmon Killebrew. Willie Davis, racing in, got the ball in his glove but dropped it when he stumbled and fell. The crowd boomed when it was ruled a hit by the official scorers.

The Dodgers jumped on Twin starter Jim Kaat in the first inning when Maury Wills led off with a ground-rule double that bounced into the rightfield stands. This was the first of four hits by Wills, tying a World Series record. . . Jim Gilliam singled to bring Wills home and give Koufax a 1-0 lead.

Speed Pays Off

Dodger racehorse tactics paid off on the next play. Willie Davis laid a sacrifice bunt down toward third. Killebrew fielded the ball and pegged to second baseman Frank Quilici, who covered first. Quilici let the throw go through his glove for an error and Gilliam raced all the way home for an unearned run.

In the third inning the Dodgers picked up two more runs. . . and Kaat gave way to rookie Dave Boswell.

With one out, Davis singled to right and stole second for his first of three thefts, which also tied a World Series record. Davis scored on Lou Johnson's single and Johnson crossed the plate with the fourth Dodger run on Ron Fairly's double, which finished Kaat.

In the fourth, Wills beat out hit to deep short, stole second and came home on Gilliam's single.

Fairly, not a speedster by Dodger standards, got into the running act in the seventh when he was safe on a grounder that Zoilo Versalles could not make a play on—although the Twins' shortstop stopped it.

Lays Down Sacrifice

Wes Parker sacrificed Fairly to second, and John Roseboro was walked intentionally so Jim Perry could get at the weak-hitting Koufax. Koufax surprised everyone by cracking a single to center and scoring Fairly. It was his first World Series hit.

The Dodgers were still not through with Perry. . . Roseboro went to second on the Koufax single and walked home with the seventh and final Dodger run on Wills' ground single to center.

Koufax, a mean while, was steaming along on the mound with his curve and fastball in good working order. After Killebrew's fifth inning single (he was wiped out by a double play), the next Twin hit was an infield job by Joe Nieseck in the seventh. He died on first.

In the ninth inning, for the only time in the game, the Twins put two hits together—singles by Quilici and pinch-hitter Sandy Valdespino—with none out. Versalles then became Koufax' 10th strikeout victim. Nieseck followed with a liner to Wills, who flipped the ball to second baseman Dick Truesdale, who doubled Quilici off second to end the game.

Nebraska Keeps Collegiate Lead

NEW YORK (UPI)—Braving Nebraska, which has employed a devastating rushing attack and an unyielding defense to batter four successive opponents, today retained its spot at the top of the major college football ratings although sternly challenged by undefeated Texas.

The Cornhuskers of the Big Eight Conference received 13 first place votes from United Press International's 35-man board of coaches and a total of 319 points to narrowly edge the Longhorns, who solidified their runner-up position by earning 311 points.

After a weekend almost devoid of major upsets, the top five teams in the UPI ratings all held their ground although the competition for third place, as well as first, grew fiercer. . . Arkansas, which snatched Baylor 38-7 for its fourth win against no defeats, drew 247 points for a tenuous grip on third which was threatened by Michigan State. The Big Ten Spartans received 245 points after routing a good Michigan team 24-7 while Georgia remained a distant fifth with 165 points.

Purdue and Southern California, which were ranked seventh and eighth, respectively, last week, moved into a tie for sixth with 139 points. The Boilermakers and Trojans, each sporting 34-1 records, pushed past Notre Dame, which fell from sixth to eighth despite a 17-0 victory over Army.

Mississippi State took one step from 10th to ninth and Florida, another Southeastern Conference team, jumped from 18th to 10th to become the only new member of the elite group.

Oregon, which had been tied with Mississippi State for 10th last week, was the only member of the top 10 to lose. The Ducks plunged from the ratings after absorbing a 17-14 defeat by Stanford, which edged into the top 20, tying Colorado and Kentucky for 17th place.

Alabama, a 22-7 winner of luckless Vanderbilt, fell from ninth to 11th, followed by Duke, Missouri, Ohio State and West Virginia, in that order.

Louisiana State slipped a notch from 15th to 16th and surprising UCLA, an upset victor over Syracuse, climbed into the 20th position.

Detroit Needs Offense Punch

DETROIT (UPI)—It took two periods of football and the pinpoint passing of Johnny Unitas to let the Detroit Lions know they are in trouble if they don't start a big offensive push.

The Lions were humbled by Unitas who found a slight flaw in the pass defense and tore Detroit apart 31-7 Sunday. And all of it in the first half of the game.

In the second half the Colts went from perfect execution football to cruelty. They allowed the Lion offense a chance to display their wares and that's no treat for Coach Harry Gilmer.

The puzzled Gilmer can't figure it out. "The timing is simply way off. We work at it, we keep working at it. That's the only answer I know."

Offensively the Lions are a sad spectacle. When quarterback Milt Plum isn't missing his receivers or getting murdered by opposing linemen, the pass receivers are dropping the ball. And the much talked about Detroit running game can't run outside and sputters going up middle.

Gilmer and his crew are frantically working this week to find the formula because next Sunday the undefeated and awesome Green Bay Packers invade Detroit. And the Packers dumped Baltimore three Sundays ago using a second string backfield because of injuries which now are healed.

The blue chips are down in the Great Lakes Conference this weekend as all the challengers for the 1965 championship face crucial contests.

With only two more weeks remaining in the conference schedule, no fewer than four teams are still in position to capture the Great Lake pennant.

Sitting in the drivers' seat at present are Negaunee and Sault Ste. Marie. Each has a 2-0-1 record which is translated into .833 percentage. Under league bylaws, conference standings are determined by the percentage of games won and lost, with tie games computed as a half game won and a half game lost.

Right behind the leaders are Gladstone and Munising, both with 2-1-0 marks and .667 percentage figures.

Here's the picture for this weekend:
Gladstone travels to Munising in a do-or-die battle, with the loser falling by the wayside. Sault Ste. Marie invades Ishpeming and Negaunee hosts

Kaline Rests After Surgery

DETROIT (UPI) — Detroit Tiger outfielder Al Kaline was resting today at Ford Hospital after undergoing surgery on his left foot Monday.

Doctors, reporting the operation a success, said they made two bone corrections in Kaline's foot, in the first and second toes.

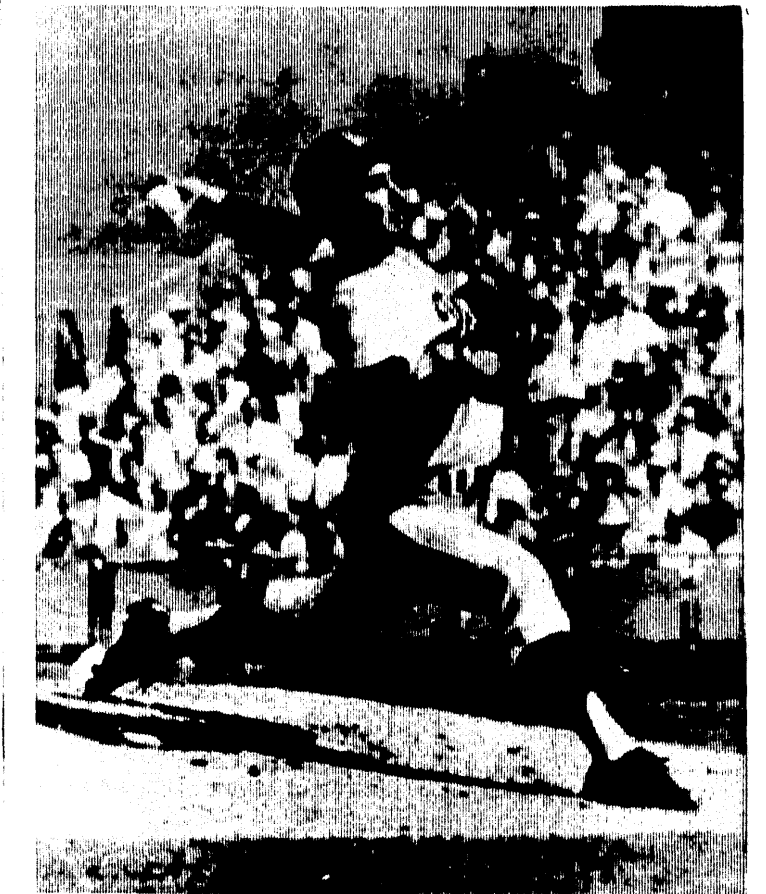

The veteran of 13 seasons with the Tigers had been hobbled the past two years by the sore foot.

He will remain at the hospital until the end of the week.

Swim Champion Dies; Age 60

SOUTHAMPTON, N.Y. (UPI) — Burial services were held Monday for former swimming star Helen Walworth Spelling, who died Friday at her home in Hampton Bays, N.Y., at the age of 60.

Mrs. Spelling, who represented the United States in the 1920 and 1924 Olympics, had been world record holder of the 50 yard, 220 yard, 440 yard and 880 yard freestyles. She was also national diving champion in 1923-24-25.

Duffy Declares Spartans Face Man Sized Job

EAST LANSING (UPI)—Michigan State Coach Duffy Daugherty Monday declared his unbeaten Spartans would have a "man sized job" in handling Ohio State Saturday.

Daugherty said his team is in its best physical condition following Saturday's 24-7 defeat of Michigan. He reported no serious injuries to his team.

Following a glimpse of the Ohio State-Illinois movie, Daugherty declared the Buckeyes "really look very powerful."

Michigan, although suffering from several errors during the first four games, still drew praise from Daugherty. He said they deserve a lot of credit for the way they played against the Spartans despite their many injuries and mistakes.

The Spartan coach said he hoped his team would come up with the kind of confidence the Wolverines had following their victory over MSU last year when they went on to win the Big Ten title.

They came on like gang-busters. I hope this can happen to us," Daugherty said.

"We feel extra fortunate and lucky to have gone as far as we have," Daugherty said there is still a rough road ahead with Ohio State, Purdue and three other conference games in front of the Spartans before the close of their Big Ten schedule.

"There's not a team we play that isn't capable of punning our ears back, but there is not a team we will play that we aren't capable of beating," he said.

"This Ohio State team is tough. I don't anticipate any over-confidence from our boys. They realize they have a man size job to do," said the cautious little Irishman.

Daugherty noted that Buckeye coach Woody Hayes had a team that had to be contended with both on the ground and through the air. Quarterback Don Unvershif has shown he can ride off opposing pass defenses.

Daugherty said whimsically "Since Woody Hayes has powerful fullback Tom Barrington he should change the faded 'four yards and a cloud of dust' legend to twelve yards and a cloud of dust."

Gladstone City Planning Starts

The City Commission took initial steps to adopt a master plan for city improvements when they met in regular session at the City Hall Monday night.

A letter from Williams & Works engineering firm was read to the Commission by City Manager H. J. Henrikson, informing them of proper steps to be taken in order to receive federal aid for proposed projects.

Plans for a water treatment plant and extension of the sanitary sewer system have long been under consideration. A master plan incorporating all of the improvements is one of the requirements.

City Attorney Clair Hoehn said a meeting with professional planners should be scheduled. He informed the Commission that once a plan is adopted a referendum by the people is necessary to make any changes.

Mayor Frank Stupak said the County and over-all county plan and the Gladstone plans would be incorporated into this program.

The city manager was instructed to set a date to meet with professional planners of Williams and Works as soon as possible.

The Commission accepted the least bid of Schock Chevrolet to provide a police patrol car for $1,200 per year, with $1,000 for the old car to be applied on the monthly payment. Action was taken on the recommendation of Police Chief Carroll Johnson.

In other business the Commission voted to advertise for bids for clear fiberglass sheets to be placed in the windows on the east end of the sewage disposal plant. Broken windows on the remaining sides can be replaced from windows salvaged from the east side.

The low bid of James B. Clow of Chicago for water pipe was accepted. Prices were $1.90 per foot for six inch pipe and $1.30 for four inch pipe. Six bids were received.

The request of John Gustafson, proprietor of the Gladstone Motel to place a sign on the boulevard was granted with the provision that if it should ever become a problem the city could request its removal.

Office space in the City Hall will be rented to the Office of Indian Affairs, who have requested permanent quarters in the area.

Permission was granted James Quinn for a refund of money paid into the retirement fund; and for one man from the sewage department to attend the waste-water convention to be held in Iron Mountain Nov. 11.

The Commission examined a map of the proposed north interchange in Gladstone at junction of Highway U. S. 41 U. S. 2-41 to Rapid River, submitted by the State Highway Department. The Commission did not accept it and referred it back to the Department for further study.

Additional lighting will be placed at the present north entrance to Gladstone by the city soon, it was decided by the Commission.

Public hearing on the weed control ordinance and motion to adopt it was approved. Property owners must cut weeds on all vacant lots or be billed by the city for the work.

Beauty Queen Killed In Fall

DEERFIELD, Mass. (UPI)—A 21-year-old former Miss American contestant slipped off a rocky ledge near the top of Mt. Sugarloaf Monday and plunged 200 feet down the rocky mountain side to her death.

Karol Rae Hommon, Miss Alaska of 1964, was picnicking with three other Smith College students near the top of the 800-foot mountain when she slipped.

The strikingly beautiful brunette clutched a sapling and, for a moment, hung suspended over the sheer east face of the mountain.

Classmate Virginia Scheer, 18, of Oklahoma City grabbed one of Miss Hommon's wrists but she slipped away and dropped to her death without a sound.

When a rescue party reached Miss Hommon on a rocky ledge 200 feet below the summit, she was near death. She was taken off the mountain on a stretcher and died three hours later in Farren Memorial Hospital in nearby Montague.

Miss Hommon was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond C. Hommon, formerly of Anchorage, Alaska, and now of Hoisington, Kan. She will be buried Thursday in Hoisington.

Hospital Expands At Kalamazoo

KALAMAZOO (UPI)—Bronson Hospital officials announced Monday that a seventh and eighth floor will be added to the main hospital building instead of one floor as had been planned originally.

Bronson and Borgess Hospitals put on a joint drive for $3.5 million and obtained $4 million, leaving the extra money for more expansion. The extra floor will be needed, officials said, because of the rapid growth of the community, including the new Fisher Body plant to open in the near future and the beginning of medicare program next July.

Blind Justice

INVERNESS, Scotland (UPI)—Ronald K. McGillivray admitted Monday charges of house breaking, including one in which he climbed 30 feet up a drain pipe and walked along a ledge.

McGillivray is blind.

Car Is Stolen At Rapid River

State Police of the Gladstone post are investigating the reported theft of an automobile in Rapid River sometime Monday night, and they ask that persons seeing a car of that description notify authorities.

Officers are also investigating a breaking and entering of the Escanaba Concrete Co. at Groos, where a quantity of gasoline and power tools are missing. The loss is estimated at $80. The thefts were discovered and reported on Monday.

At Rapid River someone with a BB gun shot a small hole in a plate glass window of the Post Office building.

State Police have issued traffic court summonses to Thomas Dawson, Escanaba Rte. 1, no valid operator's license; and to Timothy Runkel, 527 S. 14th St., defective brakes.

First Poll Released:

Television Plays 'Rating Game'

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The first national television ratings of the season, which an over-anxious industry has convinced itself are all-important, were issued Monday, listing the following as the top 10 shows:

"Bonanza," "Bewitched," "Gomer Pyle," "The Dick Van Dyke series," "Hogan's Heroes," a new situation comedy set in a German prisoner-of-war camp in World War II, "The Lucy Show," "The Andy Griffith series," "Green Acres," "The Ed Sullivan Show," "The Beverly Hills Cop," "The Love Boat," "The Mod Squad," "The F Troop," a new western spoof with Forrest Tucker heading a fouled-up cavalry troop.

Executives Watch

Normally, the networks do not consider the twice-monthly national ratings reports definitive until at least the third or fourth one is issued. But this season, though many observers feel the networks are displaying a Billie Burke kind of giddiness, video executives believe that the early premieres and daily spot ratings combine with Monday's national statistics to produce a certain sort of numerical credibility.

It is interesting to note that if such fast cancellation setups were made in the past years, "Bonanza" and the Van Dyke series might not be around, for both were slow starters. Along these lines, if Monday's ratings are regarded as authoritative by the networks, a number of veteran series are in statistical trouble, among them:

Shows In Trouble

"Dr. Kildare," which has been split into two half hours a week. "Ben Casey," "Ozzy and Harriet," "The Patty Duke show," "Amos Burke, Secret Agent" (formerly "Burke's Law"), and the Donna Reed show.

Also faring poorly in the ratings are "The King Family" musical and the twice-weekly rock 'n' roll series, "Shindig." "Slattery's People" has already got its cancellation notice for next month, and the status of "Rawhide" is completely up in the air, with bad ratings. According to Monday's national statistics, here is a night-by-night rundown on how some of the top shows are alleged to be doing in head-on ratings competition:

Mondays: The "Lucy Show" is beating "The Legend of Jesse James," with "Kildare" a poor third. Andy Griffith and "A Man Called Shenandoah," are walloping the first half of the Andy Williams program. But the second half of the Williams hour and "Hazel" both top "The Farmer's Daughter," top "Run for Your Life," with Ben Garraza as a fellow with a terminal illness who is living his remaining time to the hilt, tops "Bea Casey," with the Steve Lawrence musical series a bad third.

Tuesdays: "Please Don't Eat the Daisies," "Combat" and "My Mother, the Car"—about woman reincarnated as an auto—are all whipping "Rawhide." And Red Skelton continues to hold his own against "F Troop" and the unswervingly popular "McHale's Navy." Against Skelton and McHale, the second weekly outing of "Kildare" has no chance.

Wednesdays: "The Virginian" and the science-fiction "Lost in Space" are trouncing "Ozzie and Harriet" and the Patty Duke series. "I Spy," the very good new secret agent show with Robert Culp and Bill Cosby, is beating Danny Kaye, with "Amos Burke" way behind.

Thursdays: "The Munsters," "Gilligan's Island" and "Daniel Boone" are trampling "Shindig" and Donna Reed's show. And Dean Martin's new variety series topped the Thursday movie and "The Long, Hot Summer."

Fridays: "The Man from U.N.C.L.E." defeated the Jimmy Dean hour and finished off "Slattery's People." And the new Snodgrass Brothers situation comedy beat out the third weekly episode of "Peyton Place," with "Mr. Roberts" left far back.

Saturdays: "Get Smart," a new secret agent spoof, tops Lawrence Welk, but both are giving a hard time to a new series with Peter Falk as an earthy New York lawyer, "Trials of O'Brien," which trails badly. "Gunsmoke," meanwhile, continues to hold its ground.

Sundays: The Ed Sullivan and Walt Disney hours, and the new drama series "The F.B.I.," are all holding up, although they compete with each other. "The Wackiest Ship in the Army" is topping "Candid Camera" and "What's My Line?" and "Bonanza" outdistances Perry Mason.

Rains Hinder, Help Farmers

LANSING (UPI) — Heavy rainfall and cool temperatures both helped and hindered Michigan farmers during early October, the Michigan Crop Reporting Service said Monday.

Drenching rains helped bring along late-maturing vegetables, but wet fields delayed harvests in some areas and caused considerable rotting of carrots and some damage to onions, the service said.

The service predicted carrot harvest would be 14 per cent above last year at 1.1 million hundredweight; cabbage crops would yield 776,000 hundredweight, or 3 per cent above 1964; cauliflower yields would be 4 per cent above average and 14 per cent over last year at 480,000 hundredweight.

The service also predicted that celery, mostly harvested by Oct. 1, would reach 413,000 hundredweight, or 23 per cent above the 1964 crop; while onions would reach almost 2.7 million hundredweight, 12 per cent above last year; and that peppers would reach a peak of 84,000 hundredweight, or 9 per cent above 1964.

Detroit Citizens Committee Backs Negro Candidates

DETROIT (UPI) — A statement Monday by Citizens Committee for Equal Opportunity called for white support for Negro candidates of the City Council.

A short time later UAW President Walter P. Reuther said his union was in support of the statement.

The original statement was released by the committee chairman, the Rt. Rev. Richard S. Enrich, bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan. He said the group was "alarmed by the studies and polls which have indicated there is a lack of significant white support in our city for Negro candidates."

Tank Driver Steps On Gas

READING, Pa. (UPI)—When a driver steps on the accelerator instead of the brake he's usually in trouble.

Just ask Pvt. Kenneth Parker, 17. He knows all about it—the vehicle Parker was driving was an armored tank.

The tank lunged into a pickup truck, a sedan and a station wagon. The truck and sedan were demolished, and the station wagon wasn't in very good shape, either.

The accident happened Sunday when Parker was on reserve maneuvers with Company B, 77th Armored Division.

Parker was given a signal to stop his 50-ton tank on an inclined driveway. He later told police that he stepped on the wrong pedal. The tank shot forward across the street and slammed into the parked vehicles, which contained no occupants.

Parker emerged shaken but otherwise unhurt.

Birdwatchers To Count Condors

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — About 70 experienced bird watchers will join this weekend in an attempt to count the remaining California condors, North America's largest soaring birds. They have wing spans up to 10 feet.

The Sespe National Condor Sanctuary is the last known nesting place of the birds. As a nesting place of the birds.

Diller Remarries

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Comedienne Phyllis Diller, 48, and actor Wardé Donovan, 49, were married last Thursday in nearby Pacific Palisades, the bride disclosed Monday.

The zany blonde entertainer was divorced last August from Sherwood Diller, by whom she had five children. Donovan, a widower, has two children.

Miss Diller is scheduled Wednesday to start shooting a film with Bob Hope, "Boy, Did I Get A Wrong Number."

Hoffa Asks To Remain Free

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI) — Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa asked the U.S. Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals Monday to allow him to remain free on bond pending his appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court on a jury-tampering conviction.

Government attorneys have until Wednesday to object to the motion, which also applies to three aides who were convicted with Hoffa in federal court in Chattanooga, Tenn., in 1962.

Charged with Hoffa with trying to bribe jurors in their 1961 conspiracy trial in Nashville, Tenn., are Ewing King and Thomas E. Parks of Nashville and Larry Campbell, president of Hoffa's home local in Detroit.

Hoffa was sentenced to eight years in prison and fined $10,000. Should the appeals court here refuse his motion, he would be ordered to jail immediately.

The court denied his petition for a re-hearing last Thursday. In today's motion, attorneys asked that the mandate be stayed while they prepare their appeal, to the Supreme Court.

Elmer Beatty, a steward for UAW Local 72 said he was going to "ask the United States courts to enforce my rights under the Labor Management Reporting and Disclosure Act, Landrum-Griffin Law."

Beatty was instrumental in getting a second ratification vote by union members in ending the strike against AMC which lasted three weeks. His protest of irregularities in balloting prompted the international union to call for the second vote.

The union had charged him with stuffing the ballot box, but dropped the charges. He said he left the plant Friday to attend the union meeting at which the charges were dropped.

Bargaining Rights

LANSING (UPI)—The American Federation of State, County and Municipal employees have won sole bargaining rights for 350 Lansing city employees.

The vote was 194 for the employees union to 21 for no union, the AFSCME reported.

Discharged Union Steward Seeks Job Reinstatement

KENOSHA, Wis. (UPI) — A United Auto Workers' steward who was fired Friday for leaving the American Motors plant without a pass to attend a union meeting, said he would ask the U.S. attorney's office in Milwaukee for help in being reinstated.

Hunters Advised To Ask Farmers

LANSING (AP) — Ask the farmer before you hunt, use common sense and courtesy, hunters are advised.

These are the tips to the hunter from Fred Stuewer, game biologist for the State Conservation Department, and Charlie Shick, extension wildlife specialist at Michigan State University.

The average sportsman has to go hunting on another man's land—the farmer's.

"A hunter should keep in mind that he is asking permission of the farmer to harvest part of his crop—the wildlife on his land," said Shick.

"A little common sense and courtesy go a long way," he said.

Shick said if he were asked to list three basic rules for the hunter, they would be these:

1. Ask the farmer first. Don't hunt without permission.

2. Don't road hunt. Remember that the farmer owns up to the middle of the county road going past his land.

3. Don't hunt in large groups.

Few other reminders for the sportsmen were: Don't litter, don't start fires, don't shoot near the house or livestock areas, keep your dog and gun under control at all times, learn the exact boundaries of the farm you are hunting.

"Drive as far as you can from the big cities when you want to go hunting," advised Stuewer.

"That's where all the hunting pressure is."

As a final suggestion, he said: "Offer the farmer part of your

Our new customers for children's shoes are a challenge. Our old ones are a compliment.

Every fall we introduce Jumping Jacks to a lot of brand-new customers, and continue to serve old customers as well. We welcome the challenge of fitting your child's feet as perfectly as it can be done. He gets the same careful attention whether he's an old regular, or is visiting our store for the first time. Youngsters like the way Jumping Jacks feel—so soft, light and flexible. Their parents like the painstaking way we fit Jumping Jacks. Find out for yourself why people keep on coming back to our store. Come in and look us over. When you do, be sure to see our full line of Jumping Jacks.
